

TREVOR BOX WINS CRA KEVIN COULMAN AWARD

Trevor Box, of Birmingham City Laboratories, has become the eighth recipient of the Concrete Repair Association's (CRA) Kevin Coulman Award. He was presented with the accolade by CRA Chairman Tony Hansard immediately following the Association's recent AGM.

The Kevin Coulman Award is presented to an individual member of the CRA who has given outstanding service either to the Association, or to the concrete repair industry as a whole.

"For the past three years, Trevor has acted as the point of contact for concrete repair technical enquiries emanating via the Association's Technical Advisory Service hotline", commented Tony Hansard. "To provide assistance, he voluntarily gives his time to provide advice without charge and as such, is a valuable asset both to the Association and to the industry in general".

The CRA was formed in the late 1980s to set high standards of workmanship and technical competence in concrete repair industry. As well as being able to demonstrate a proven track record and overall proven ability in this specialist construction sector, each full member is obliged to be Q.A. accredited to ISO 9001, to comply with the Association's stringent Codes of Practice and its training requirements.
